TRAIN HITS SCHOOL TRUCK-FOUR CHILDREN KILLED

VAN WERT, OHIO, SCENE OF TERRIBLE ACCIDENT—THIRTY-FIVE ARE INJURED

Only Two Escaped With Minor Injuries. Children Killed Range In Age From 7 To 9 Years. Engineer Declares Fog Prevented Him From Seeing The Automobile.

ABOUT FORTY WERE ON THE TRUCK

Van Wert, Ohio, January 10.—Four school children were killed and thirty-five injured near here today when a school truck was struck by a Pennsylvania freight train. The truck was carrying between thirty-five and forty children. Only two escaped with minor injuries. The others were rushed to hospitals in Van Wert and nearby towns.

J. E. Trimble, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, engineer of the freight train, declared he failed to see the automobile because of the heavy fog. Joe Overholt, a boy who was one of the passengers on the truck, also testified that the train was not visible on account of the fog.

Nearly All Badly Bruised.

Van Wert, Ohio, January 10.—Four children were ground to death under the wheels of a Pennsylvania freight train near here and eight others seriously injured when a truck carrying between thirty-five and forty school children, was smashed here today. Nearly all of the other children were badly bruised. The accident occurred in a heavy fog. J. C. Trimble, engineer; W. E. Koons, fireman, and James Raines, conductor of the freight train, all of Fort Wayne, Indiana, were immediately placed under arrest by Sheriff Fels. The dead are Lucille Sacker, aged 15; Jessie Sacker, aged 12; Max Imile, aged 7, and Dora Imile, aged 9.

LAW IS SUBJECT OF ADDRESS MADE AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

Laws, obeyed and disobeyed, might have been the title of an address given to the members of the Commercial Club last evening at the Jordan Hotel last evening by James P. O'Laughlin, Esq., who ably served as a pinch hitter in the absence of a speaker who was to have come from Pittsburgh. Mr. O'Laughlin afforded to little amusement with his recital of some of the ridiculous laws on our statute books in this and other states and at the same time pointed out that "law, to be law, must be public opinion," indicating that any law was more than its interpretation by the public. Touching on the prohibition amendment, the speaker rather inferred than one of the members of the club had some "private stocks" when he explained at considerable length the rights of individuals under the search and seizure clause. Mr. O'Laughlin made a very interesting address.

The business meeting of the club was taken up with reports of committees. The traffic committee reported that the matter of uniform and flat switching charges in Clearfield had been formally taken up and was being pushed with vigor. The social committee appointed to see what they could do in regard to removing the unsightly barnacles from the court house property reported success in their efforts and gleefully pointed to the absence of sign boards there now.

An unusually large attendance greeted President Warner when he swung the gavel and the club is swinging into its second year with hopes of a very successful year. Five new members made their appearance. Men in business or in responsible business positions are eligible to membership and many are availing themselves of the privilege.

Issue Knapp, of Bigler transacted business here today.

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO BUY BONDED STOCKS AS RESERVE MEDICINAL STOCK

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Purchasing by the Government of all liquor supplies will be recommended by the Committee on Government Reorganization. The plan is to have Uncle Sam buy all the liquor in bonded warehouses. It totals 35,000,000 gallons and could be bought for $50,000,000. The Treasury would quickly get back this money by selling five million gallons at

ARTHUR GRIFFITH NEW PRESIDENT OF DAIL EIREAN

Dublin, Ireland, Jan. 10.—Arthur Griffith today was elected President of the Dail Eirean. The former Foreign Minister under Eamon De Valera will head a provisional Government to arrange for the governing of the Irish Free State. Whether Griffith will also take the Presidency of the Irish Free State will be decided later. As a protest against repudiation of his leadership DeValera left the hall during these proceedings.

BORAH UNFORGIVING EVEN AFTER SPEECH OF MR. NEWBERRY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—"The taint of corruption adheres to Senator Truman Newberry as the result of the excessive use of money in the campaign at the time of his nomination and election, even if he had no part in the use of the money himself," Senator Borah of Idaho said in a speech in the Senate today in the investigation assailing Newberry's right to his seat.

SOVIET CONSIDERS ALLIES RECOGNIZE HER BY INVITATION

Moscow, Russia, Jan. 10.—That the Allies have recognized the Russian Soviet Government is the view of the Red regime today. The invitation to participate in the conference at Geneva was the first step towards world-wide recognition of the Russian Government, it was claimed. The Geneva conference will prove an important step towards European reconstruction. This would be impossible without the recognition of Russia.

Wood Alcohol Takes Five Victims Today At Hoboken, N. J.

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 10.—Five men died from wood alcohol poisoning here today. The victims include a saloon keeper and four men who had been boarding with him near the Hoboken Piers. A search of the piers was started today in the hope of rounding up the guilty parties.

THREE CITIES ARE HIT HARD BY FIRE THIS MORNING EARLY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10.—Fire partially destroyed the building occupied by the S. G. Kresge five and ten cent store here today. The damage amounted to about $250,000. The origin of the fire is not known. Firemen played a dozen streams of water on other buildings nearby to prevent the spread of the flames.

Million Loss at Louisville

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 10.—Loss in a fire which swept the old Courier-Journal building here early today may reach $1,000,000. Firemen battled with the flames for hours but were unable to save the structure. The fire started in a jewelry store on the fourth floor. A fireworks display was witnessed when chemicals stored in a photograph gallery on one of the floors was consumed. No loss of life was reported although there were forty tenants in the building.

Johnstown Hit Too

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 10.—The lumber mill and plant of W. H. Smith & Son was almost totally destroyed by fire here today. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

STEEL TRADE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT IN MONTH OF DECEMBER

New York, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Unfilled steel tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation increased 17,872 tons during the month of December as was announced today. The unfilled tonnage totaled 4,368,414 on December last as compared with 4,250,542 on November 30th.

URGES FARMERS TO ENGAGE HELP NOW FOR EARLY SUMMER

(By the United Press)
Erie, Pa., Jan. 10.—A. W. Motley, Superintendent of the State Employment office here, urges granges and farmers to employ their labor now.

He sees a labor scarcity in the spring.

Motley has sent the following letter to farmers:

"It was comparatively easy to obtain men for farm work during the past year, as business depression in the cities left thousands of men out of employment, and many of these were men who had left the farms in the past few years.

"During the coming year, it is extremely doubtful if the same conditions will exist as the manufacturers believe that business will revive after the first of the year.

"We believe that it will be good policy for the farmers who have any work at all during the winter to hire their extra men now. Orders can now be placed for March or April contracts thus insuring the pick of the best farm hands."

LOWLY NICKEL IS COMING BACK AS A REAL WORTHY COIN

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—The lowly nickel, not worth much for the last few years without being accompanied by the democratic cent, is coming back. One "jit" will now buy a soft drink in a soda dispensary, a cake of chocolate, a pack of chewing gum, or a box of well known cough drops, among other things without the accompanying one, two or three cents. But, nickel car fares are yet to return.

SAYS IRVONA MEN CHANGED WAYS OF LIVING LAST WEEK

The following letter from a well known Irvona resident indicates that the meteor which passed over this region recently had a good effect on some of his neighbors. He writes: "After reading so much about what was believed to be an earthquake in the County papers I thought perhaps it would be interesting to your readers to hear the experience of two of our Irvonites with reference to the shock, namely Mr. John Brink and Martin McGomery.

This is as they gave it to me as near as I remember it: We were working in the woods about one mile and a half from Berwindale, Pa., it was about half past one o'clock in the afternoon. We had just finished sawing the butt off a log when we heard the rumbling sound.

It sounded to us like a low rumbling thunder. Just a steady rumbling, seemed to be coming nearer all the time. We looked in all directions but could see nothing. It must have been four or five minutes from the time we first heard the rumbling sound until we heard the explosion.

We had lots of time to think when we heard the explosion, it shook the ground where we stood and for several minutes after we heard the sound but it was some different to the sound we heard before the explosion. Seemed to be going from us instead of coming to us as at first.

It seemed to us like three or four holes filled with dynamite, one report right after the other.

When asked what effect it had on them, Mr. Brink said he thought it was the airship that France is building which when completed will travel from Paris to New York, a distance of 3,500 miles in seven hours and was coming this way and had got under way and they couldn't stop it.

Mr. Montgomery said it scared him. He thought the world was coming to an end. I think it had a good effect on both men as I have not heard either one say a bad word since and they both told me their arms would be open for inspection at all times and if anybody could find anything but good old strong coffee they were welcome to it and I will reach for both of them for truth and veracity.

YOUNG WOMAN SAID TO BE BLIND FROM SUICIDAL ATTEMPT

Curwensville, Pa., Jan. 10.—Last Friday, a young lady residing on the South Side made an effort to end her life. She was employed at the Sonny Blouse factory and was returning to work after the noon hour accompanied by two other ladies. Near the covered creek bridge she lagged behind her companions and drank a concoction of wood alcohol mixed with some other stuff. She only went a few rods until she fell to the ground. Her companions summoned assistance and she was placed on a conveyance and hastened to a physician who applied the necessary remedies and saved her life. She was taken to her home and report today is that she is blind from the effects of the dose and her rash act.

WOMEN'S BANK IS A REALITY IN OHIO— OFFICERS AND ALL

Cleveland, O., Jan. 9.—The old joke about a woman's bank being her stocking passed out with the opening here on January 1st of Ohio's first women's bank catering especially to women, with women alone to guide its policies and its employees from teller to janitress and all officers women.

The Women's Saving Bank and Loan Co., will be its name. It is capitalized at $1,000,000.

Mrs. Flora Harreff Andrews is the president.

"Women have been successful in other business, so why should they not be successful bankers?" Miss Lillian Westropp, attorney, and legal advisor of the bank, the originator of the women's bank idea, said.

ANOTHER CALL HAS BEEN RECEIVED TO HELP HUNGRY BABES

Clearfield people will be called upon next week for help for the starving woman and children of Russia. This appeal may be somewhat belated here in Clearfield, but it is the most urgent that has come out of any country and from any body of suffering people in the whole of war ravaged Europe. Trained observers who have been in Russia are simply appalled by the suffering, misery and death on every hand, where out of a total of thirty millions of people, twenty-five millions must be fed or they will perish.

A movement is on foot to have next week proclaimed "self denial week" for Clearfield. The ministers of all the churches in the town will be asked to announce this fact from their pulpits on next Sunday and ask their people to deny themselves some luxury or unnecessary expenditure and devote the money thus saved to saving the life or some innocent little child in far-off Russia who is on the very edge of the "valley of the shadow" through lack of the simplest necessities of life.

The necessity of speedy relief is set forth in the following appeal from the General Relief Committee in charge of New York headquarters:

"In Humanity's name we plead with you to do your part to help the millions of starving people in Russia.

Bitter cold has added torture to the misery they are already suffering from the twin scourges—Famine and Pestilence.

Women, driven from their homes in search of food, sit by the roadside too weak to struggle further, holding to their breasts tiny weakened bits of humanity trying to suck life where it is not.

For thousands of these help will come too late, but there are millions in distress. The latest report from Moscow states there are over 9,000,000 starving children.

It is simply a matter of dollars whether these children are to live or die. Try to realize the desperation of this situation. Realize that it is little children who are suffering. Never were human beings more pitifully in need of help.

This movement is purely humanitarian and every Christian should feel it his duty to respond to this appeal and at least give something.

CHRISTMAS TREE FARMING APPEALS TO KANE FARMERS

(By United Press)

Kane, Pa., Jan. 10.—Christmas tree farming may be a new branch of industry in this section of the State in a few years. Farmers here are seriously contemplating growing hemlock and other evergreen trees.

Six years ago, boys furnished trees here at 25 cents each, but last year, the supply became short even at $1 to $3 each.

BRILLIANT AFFAIR TONIGHT AT THE DIMELING HOTEL

The annual Women's Club banquet to be held this evening in the Dimeling is to be a very interesting and brilliant affair. The speaker of the evening is Mrs. Rankin, of Clarion, and others on the program are Miss Alice Smith at the piano, Miss Mary Mitchell who will sing and Mrs. Oscar Shaeffer who will play the cello.

TRINITY HEARS AN ELOQUENT MESSAGE FROM REV. LONG

Head of Big Seminary Also Acquaints Local People With Intimate Details Of Seminary.

REV. HUNG TONITE

At Trinity Church last night, Rev. John W. Long, President of Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, Pa., preached to a fine congregation. Many of his former parishioners of the West Side were present. Rev. Snively and Rev. McCurdy took part in the opening services. The choir sang an anthem and Miss Ethel Boyce sang a gospel song as a solo.

Rev. Long presented a unique subject in a unique way. His text was taken from the Gospel of John, 9th chapter 27th verse; "Wherefore would ye hear it again?" He asked the question "Why do people turn to the church again and again?" Among the reasons he gave were, "To settle the problems of life, to find comfort of mind and spirit."

Mr. Long also gave some facts about Dickinson Seminary. This is the second largest year in point of attendance in the history of the school. The prospects are bright for an increase in attendance in the second semester. There are forty young men taking preliminary training for the ministry at Dickinson this year. A number of others are prevented from a lack of funds from entering. Each contribution of $50 would enable the Seminary to offer a scholarship to a young man who wishes to prepare for the ministry. One such contribution was made voluntarily at the close of the meeting.

Tonight Mr. William Hung, Secretary for Chinese Work of the Board of Foreign Missions will speak. Mr. Hung is a brainy young Chinaman and an eloquent speaker. He has had experience as a Chatauqua lecturer, and comes highly recommended.

DIRECTORATE OF COUNTY NATIONAL INCREASED TODAY

The annual election of officers of the County National Bank, held today resulted in the stockholders voting to amend the articles of association sufficient to allow the increasing of the Board of Directors to the extreme limit. Therefore after the old board of officers and sixteen directors had been re-elected the following five well known Clearfield business men were elected directors: John F. Leitzinger, E. E. Orcutt, A. B. Reed, Philip B. Reed, W. Wallace Smith.

NOW IT IS SENATOR PEPPER TOOK OATH EARLY THIS MORN.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—George Wharton Pepper, noted lawyer of Philadelphia, Pa., today took the oath of office as junior Senator for the State of Pennsylvania. Pepper's appointment fills the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Boies Penrose.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sheriff of Philadelphia spent the past weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Trostle.

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SELECTED AS SITE FOR BUILDING RACE OF "PERFECT 36"

Mansfield, Ohio, Jan. 10.—A race of "Perfect Thirty-Sixes" was visualized here today as Dr. H. Brown began his work with this All American town as his headquarters. Dr. Brown is starting a five-year experiment with Mansfield children in an attempt to produce a perfect race.

SEWER PIPE WORKS ORDERS ROLLING IN SMASHING RECORDS

QUALITY PRODUCT

"More orders booked now, with only one third of the month gone, than we booked during the whole of last January." This is the statement attributed to Mr. Samuel L. Warner, General Manager of the Clearfield Sewer Pipe Company, made last evening. These may not have been the exact words by Mr. Warner but The Progress learns on good authority that the statement is essentially true.

In the face of the much heralded and over worked phase of general depression, this knowledge in connection with one of the most substantial industries of Clearfield is decidedly encouraging to the men who look to these good people for work and to the merchants who depend on the laborer for trade. This activity in the tile trade will be a considerable factor in offsetting the ill-effects of stagnation in the coal industry in the towns surrounding Clearfield and it should be a road omen so far as the building brick trade is concerned.

The Sewer Pipe Works today is the salvation of Clearfield and it is a lucky circumstance indeed that it is in such good hands. The quality of the product has no little to do with the success of the firm. A glance at the stock piles during the time that we were forced to use the detour was sufficient to arouse comment on the quality of the product.

COSTS IMPOSED IN BOOTLEGGING CASES FROM COALPORT

The defendants in several criminal cases from the Coalport region faced Judge Bell yesterday afternoon and their cases were disposed of as follows:

George J. Mazenko, hotel proprietor, who entered a plea of guilty to an assault and battery charge was sentenced to pay $50 fine and costs. M. Czaplun, Katie Wingnoc and Thomas Turner, "bootleggers" of mild degree were sentenced to pay small fines and costs and each served five days in jail.

Mike KKosalski, another liquor law violator was given a $500 fine and three months in jail with the condition that he be paroled on payment of the costs, which was done and Mike went his way rejoicing.

Raymond Kozelsky, of Majors, who entered a plea of guilty to liquor law violation, was given a $50 fine and 30 days in jail.

Ralph Brink of Coalport, was charged with promiscuous stealing up around his home community and was given three months in jail for stealing an automobile tire, with a suspension of sentence on a second charge. After learning that the men was married and his wife about to become a mother, Judge Bell relented and sent him home to his family.

Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Leopold have returned from a weeks' visit to Washington and Philadelphia.

H. B. Thompson, one of our most estimable and oldest citizens, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is reported as convalescing. On Sunday, January 8th he and his wife celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary with a family dinner, his entire family being present. His son, F. S. Thompson and wife coming from Philadelphia for the occasion.

Last Friday a law suit was held before Squire Dale, Baker Passmore, of Pike township, had warrants sworn out for Peter O'Laughlin, Joe Milliron and Raymond Volpe for trespassing on his land during the hunting season. Each of the defendants were fined $5.00 and costs. The end is not yet as the boys threaten to retaliate and have a son of the plaintiff arrested for illegal shooting of a deer two days after he had killed one. Game Warden Davis was in town Saturday investigating the case.

The Loyal Order of Moose had another one of their royal good meetings in their hall last evening. The occasion was the initiation of a large class of members. After the lodge work came to an end a sumptuous supper was served, and was commended of all the delicacies and tidbits the season afforded.

The three tourists arrested by Chief Clark, charged with setting fire to the Meadow street building were taken to jail on Saturday to await trial at February term of Court.

After eleven years rest from the barbering business Samuel Norris has opened a tonsorial parlor in the building lately occupied by Joe Fullerton as an electric store. We can now get a hair cut for 35 cents and shave for 10c.

Fred Thompson has purchased the building of his new moving picture theatre so rapidly that he will have it completed and equipped and ready for the opening show the first week in February. It is a dandy building and an ornament to the town.

Mrs. Edith Bartlett and Mrs. Edna McKinley, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blake, for several weeks returned to their homes yesterday, the former going to Detroit, Mich. and the latter to Akron, O.

Owing to the illness of Ralph Hess, one of the newly elected councilmen, that body cancelled the election of a policeman and Street Commissioner. As both incumbents have made good officers it is more than likely that they will be retained for another year.

Prof. Norris informed the writer a few weeks ago that the percentage of attendance at the schools averaged 91 per cent of all children residing in the borough. This average was up until school closed for the holiday.

Parties have been working this town for some time back, endeavoring to interest Curwensville people sufficiently to subscribe stock for the erection of a building in which to establish a general gasoline and oil trade. An option has been secured on the Smith lot on State street.

L. G. Vaughn left yesterday morning on a business trip to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. J. W. Norris entertained a number of her friends at bridge last evening at her home on State street.

Robt. Clark left this morning for Philadelphia, where he is a student at Pierce's Business College.

Dr. E. C. Reeve of Clearfield was a Curwensville visitor last evening.

Miss Celestine Kennedy, of Clearfield, visited her sister, Regina here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Knepp, Jr., of Ridge Hospital, is a patient at the Clearfield Hospital.

C. O. Norris returned Sunday from a trip to New York and Boston.

Howard Thompson returned from a business trip to Eastern cities yesterday.

It seems to be an assured fact that our town will have another ice cream factory and ice plant in the near future.

Arrangements are being made for the holding of "Farmers' Institute" about the middle of February.

BEST LOCATION OF HOG LOT

Simple Precaution May Be Means of Preventing Spread of Cholera—Isolate New Stock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When hog cholera sweeps through a neighborhood, causing the death of hundreds of animals, a simple precaution, as the proper location of the hog lot, may be the means of preventing infection. Where not to have the hog lot is pointed out and other suggestions on the control and eradication of this disease are given in a leaflet published by the United States Department of Agriculture. Hog lots should be located away from streams and highways. Free range, streams, irrigation canals, etc., help in the spread of cholera outbreaks. Don't visit neighbors' hog lots or allow neighbors to visit yours if they have sick hogs.

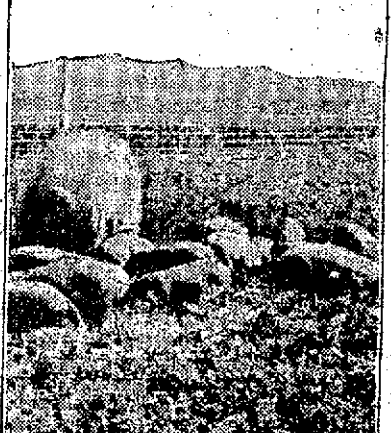

Infection may be carried by teams and wagons from highways; don't drive into hog lots. Isolate for at least two weeks all new stock lots and those just returned from exhibitions and sales. Don't borrow or lend hogs for breeding purposes if cholera is in the community.

Burn to ashes or bury four feet deep all animals that die on the farm and the unused internal organs of slaughtered animals, since they attract dogs, which may carry infection. If cholera appears in the neighborhood, confine your dog and encourage others to do likewise. Immunize herds located dangerously near infected centers. Capable attention to the feeding and handling of the herd after immunization is an important matter. Mange, lice and worms lower the vitality of hogs and render them more susceptible to disease.

If cholera appears in the herd, post warning notices so your neighbors will know about it, suggests the department. Have all susceptible hogs immunized at once by some one with special training and experience, preferably to a competent veterinarian. Insist that the temperature of all hogs be taken at time of treatment and an increased dose of serum given to those showing a temperature of 104 degrees F. or over. Confine all treated hogs to limited, clean quarters; keep on light, restricted diet for at least two weeks.

Success in the fight against cholera is based on the farmer's way of making choice and bestowing reward. Unless you pull yourself up from the lowlands you never will know the joys of a heroic life.

and give plenty of pure drinking water. Anti-hog cholera serum is not a cure, but when used as soon as cholera appears in a herd it seems to have a favorable effect on some animals in the very early stage of the disease. Don't rely on serum to cure sick hogs; it is primarily a preventive.

If the disease comes to your farm and runs its course, disinfect thoroughly afterwards all places where sick hogs have been. First, remove all infected manure and spread on fields inaccessible to hogs. Burn all litter, rubbish and old troughs from infected pens and lots. Turn over portable hog houses, exposing the interior to sunlight. Thoroughly clean pens and buildings in which sick hogs have been kept, and disinfect by spraying with compound cresol solution, one part to 30 parts of soft water. In summer, pastures and lots are usually made safe within three weeks by the action of sunlight. Fill, drain, or fence off mud wallows. Disinfect and fence off all runs underneath buildings. Destroy hogs that don't fully recover; they may carry cholera infection.

SHOULD NOT MATE TOO SOON

For Best Results, Angora Goats Must Be Allowed to First Attain Full Maturity.

Angora goats of both sexes will sometimes mate when five months old and often at six months, but from the fact that they are at this age but a month or two from weaning time, and are not nearly full grown, it is obvious that they should not be permitted to mate. They reach maturity when about 10 or 18 months old, and they ought not to mate before that time. If mated earlier the kids will not be so strong or so well developed. They are in their prime when two or six years old, but with proper feeding in winter they have been known to breed regularly until 15 years old. The average life of a goat is about 12 years. There should be no tendency to keep does until they are very old, unless they bring extra good kids.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

TO ALLEVIATE the desire to look back on the past, to think of the suffering, to venture forth into fields of thought still unexplored, and achievements which call for the highest types of human quality.

The doing of such things as these develop strength of purpose and healthy character. They enlarge the heart and mind, open new vistas where scenes are changing constantly, give exquisite pleasures, besides storing the soul with knowledge found only in pursuit of the Infinite.

Can you do any one of them and acquire yourself satisfactorily?

Have you the patience and the penetrating vision on which you can rely when put to the test?

Going round and round, day after day, taking to nowhere beyond a week's pittance.

The man or woman who in his or her own sphere seeks through routine methods and keeps looking for substance rather than such stuff as dreams are made of, is doing something along this line.

Both are moving towards a new world, where there is no boundary to opportunity and no limit in the field of operation.

Though up-hill intimacies are without charm of freedom, of which youths of the present seek more than is good for their bodies and souls, these close associations, with difficulties accompanied with earnest work, take by easy stages to great heights.

Up hill intimacies! Are you, young man and woman, familiar with them?

Do you hold communion beneath the evening lamp with instructive, uplifting books, instead of adding your time in frivolous amusements that give no lasting earnings?

If you are, you will come in some solitary hour, on your study and meditation, face with smiling Hope, holding a torch high to light and cheer the way.

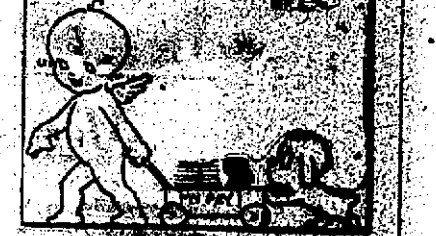

Then you will drink in the inspiring heights of the higher altitude and feel commendably proud in the thought that this big world is reserving a place for somewhere you may sit among the great guests at a beautiful feast.

Success is not just such a basis as this, but it is the way of making choice and bestowing reward. Unless you pull yourself up from the lowlands you never will know the joys of a heroic life.

YOUR HAND

How to Read Your Character and Temperament—the Complete Guide to Success in Life, Love, and Work—The Only Book of Its Kind in Your Field.

THE HAND OF A SAILOR

THE hand of a successful sailor should be strong, broad, and broad. A characteristic mark of the well-developed hand is the line of the thumb, the line of the wrist. It denotes great strength of the sea. If there is a star on the thumb, it means danger by water, for which naturally, every sailor is prepared. A line of Mars, paralleling the line of life, on the middle, shows endurance and protection from great dangers. The sailor's hand contains also well-marked travel lines, that is, lines extending from the first phalanx and going upward to the mount of the moon, or coming in at the wrist from the side of the hand. If a travel line strongly marked is terminated by a cross appearing on it, that is a sign that a journey will end in misadventure. The line of life of the sailor should be well separated from the line of the head, since such separation signifies plenty of self-confidence.

This edition of The Progress is devoted and dedicated to the farming and agricultural interests of Clearfield County, and each month will see a repetition of this consideration being shown the greatest single industry in the County. The business and trade growing out of the agricultural development of the County in all its angles, farming, trucking, dairying, breeding and reforestation, warrant at least on issue per month being given over to the encouraging and fostering of the business of growing what we eat and wear. For the inauguration of this method of increasing our farming acreage and upbuilding our cattle herds the people of the County are indebted to the Auxiliary Livestock Association, a roster of whose members is to be found on the Livestock Page, on page 13. Through their co-operation The Progress is enabled to further the good message of blooded live stock. The merchants of this City have, by the patronage of the advertising columns of The Progress, given their endorsement to the idea and at the same time thereby given recognition to the buying power of the people who till the soil and herd the sheep.

The scope of this movement in Clearfield County and the aggressiveness of the agricultural interests here are drawing state-wide attention. Many requests are coming from other counties for a sample of the Farm Page. In future issues every angle of soil development, from live stock to pine trees, will be covered. The Progress will preach the gospel of "back to the soil" until Clearfield County is made the equal of any in the State, considering our advantages. It can be done. Sweep aside the pessimist, the scorner, the cold water dispenser. Make your motto "Go ahead" and you will soon be able to look behind—to see if the other fellow is coming.

Get going now. Let the editor know what you are doing so it can be published as an incentive to your timorous brethren.

Not a few who read this edition of The Progress will allow themselves to soar on the wings of fancy or nestle in the embrace of dreamland in a sort of trance. Then when they awake the next morning to do the exacting labor of the farm, they will realize with a sickening sensation that their means are not sufficient to build the air castles they planned the night before. The chances are that others will pass up most of the material gathered without looking for the things that will be valuable to them. The world is full of these people who, like the sucking calf, must have their heads dipped into the milk pail before they find their food. There is another kind of farmer who is alert for all the good things that come along and it is he who looks long and hard for ideas that will benefit him. This latter class will be the representative farmer and breeder of the future. What class are you in?

Those who fancy and dream are most certainly in the hopeful class. Dreams are but the pathway to accomplishment. Better dream and awake than sleep on forever. The hopeless are those who heed not the printed page, as it is no less than the screen on which is shown the accomplishment of other men.

It will be a welcome condition in our American life to have the so-called Irish question out of the way. The setting up of the Irish Free State is one of the great advances made in world affairs from all standpoints and it will remove from American politics the Irish cause. The destiny of Ireland, as is made plain by the attitude of De Valera, is not yet settled, but the bare fact remains that in the establishment of the Free State, their troubles, if they remain, will be of, by and within themselves, and there is no angle of it that will come in for the embarrassment of American government, such as has been the case in the past. It is to be hoped that the trouble-making factions of Ireland will be composed and that they can and will set up a smooth-working government. It would be expecting too much to think that they can accomplish this without discord. The Irish Free State must learn to creep before it can walk along the rocky road of self government.

SANITARY BARBER SHOPS OF PHILA. TO BE LABELED

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—Philadelphiaans shortly will know whether their particular barber shop lives up to strict sanitary rules, if plans of the Master Barber's Association here materialize. Plans are to placard each sanitary tonsorial parlor here with a large red keystone bearing the letter "P" surrounded by a border of barber poles. Each shop applying for such placard will undergo a rigid inspection. The forty cent haircut and twenty-five cent shave will continue, according to plans, in order to insure a high standard of sanitation.

OBITUARY

MRS. HERBERT CALDWELL DIES

Mrs. Herbert Caldwell, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Moyer of Cooper Township, died at Jersey Shore on January 4th. Mrs. Caldwell is a sister of Mrs. John C. Stewart, formerly a resident of this place. Her death follows a paralytic stroke. Her husband, it will be recalled, was killed by a fall from a box car on the N. Y. C. in May last. Among her survivors are Samuel Caldwell, of Clearfield, a son, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Paul Irwin, Mrs. Grant Snyder and Mr. Henry Moyer, all of Clearfield.

WM. T. VALLANCE DIES

William T. Vallance died on the night of January 2, at his home in Winburne, Pa., aged 81 years. He leaves six children, Sarah Vallance of Rochester, N. Y., James Vallance of Dayton, O., Mrs. Albert Thomas of Patton, Pa., and Margaret, John and Harry Vallance of Winburne, a sister, Miss Katherine Vallance of Lock Haven, a brother John Vallance of Chicago and a number of grandchildren.

Mr. Vallance was born of pioneer Pennsylvania stock at Mill Hall, Clinton County, on December 22, 1840. On November 11, 1862, he married Miss Rosa Kelly of Hubersburgh. Mrs. Vallance died in Winburne on June 8, 1914.

For many years Mr. Vallance was connected in the coal mining industry in various capacities, he had been in the milling business and he was for a number of years a stationary engineer, before making his home in Winburne, he had lived at Bellefonte, Williamsport, Lock Haven, Boiling Springs, Houtzdale, New Millport and Snow Shoe. He had seen much of the development of Pennsylvania, and to the day of his death he retained an excellent memory of the interesting passages of his long life. He was a member of the Winburne Local Union 176, United Mine Workers of America and of the Knights of the Golden Eagle.

The funeral took place at ten thirty o'clock on Thursday morning, January 5th, at St. Agnes Church, Morrisdale, with services in charge of the rector, Rev. E. J. Fischer. Burial was made in St. Agnes Cemetery.

MANAGER DRIGGS OFFERS A TREAT AT BARGAIN PRICE

January is naturally the month of bargains but when Manager Driggs of the Driggs Theatre booked Eddie Ray and his company to come here for the week, he certainly went along with the merchants who are offering the public top notch merchandise at mighty low prices.

Last night's offering of 'Baby Mine' made a hit from the very first curtain until the finale. The sparkling wit, the good clean humor, the good singing and ensemble work bespeaks a full house again tonight for the company which offers 'Pretty Baby' another Broadway hit.

Tested Strength of Insects.

Placard, to measure the strength of insects, constructed most ingenious and delicate apparatus attached to a sensitive spring balance. By prodding the insects he made them move along the weights until they stopped. Even the butterflies, in proportion to size, is stronger than the average man.

ARMS CONFERENCE PATCHES LOOPHOLES IN PEACE TREATY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Special provisions to guard against "loopholes" in the new Naval Limitation Treaty that might lead to warfare have been inserted in the pact by the Arms Conference. Every effort has been made to make the Treaty an "Air tight" document for the preservation of the peace of the world.

Scrambled Metaphors.

A political speaker said that "the present government has sown a harvest which is coming home to roost." Another said that "the floodgates of freetition and intemperance are stalking through the hind arch in arm." A third that "he (Mr. Balfour) is a mere figurehead with his hand on the rudder." But to Bishop Knox we must award the prize. He said that Mr. McKenna's sword was an "overloaded pistol which, being hung up in a tight corner lest it should burst, pretended to be dead until it got up and trotted home on the friendly back of the bishop of St. Asaph."—Boston Transcript.

LARGE PITTSBURGH HOSPITAL WILL GET ITS APPROPRIATION

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10.—Auditor General Lewis today ruled that the St. Francis Hospital here, a non-sectarian and therefore would receive the $135,000.00 allotted to it by the State appropriation.

Sound Made by Crickets.

The notes given forth by insects are, most of them, so extremely high as to be imperceptible by human ears, scientists say. The peculiar chirping sound uttered by the male cricket is made possible by the circumstance that the left wing cover is almost entirely covered by the right wing cover. This enables the insect to draw the right wing with an indented cross vein across a smooth outstanding vein on the top of the lower wing cover, with much the same motion as that of the bow of a fiddle. The sound thus produced is extremely faint in itself, but it is greatly strengthened by means of four resonant bits of parchment-like skin so that it can be heard for a distance of about 320 feet.

Chrysanthemum Always Popular.

Something about the chrysanthemum excites the imagination of flower lovers everywhere. At least a hundred books have been written about this favored flower of the East—more, probably, than about any other flower except the rose. As for newspaper and magazine articles, they are numberless, almost as the sands of the sea.

Pantomime Purely a Roman Idea.

Not until the drama had been established for more than 500 years was the pantomime, one of the simplest forms of dramatic art, originated. The drama was the invention of the Greeks, but the pantomime was a purely Roman idea. Two aspiring actors, Pythias and Bathyllos, one of whom was afflicted with throat trouble, gave the first performance of this kind in the year 22 B. C. It was only a makeshift on their part because of the illness of one of the performers, but their audience was so delighted that they continued with the production of the wordless drama.

GAME KEEPER TELLS HOW HE TRAPS THE NOXIOUS ANIMALS

Game Keeper L. D. Rearick was in from Kennedy Park this morning on his way to DuBois on business. While in town the Progress man, ran across him and learned that Rearick is keeping the game reserve pretty free of noxious animals, which prey upon pheasants and other small game.

Thus far this season Mr. Rearick has captured nine foxes, sixteen skunks, ten coons, three minks and nine weasels. He also landed the largest hawk killed in these parts in a long time. One day recently while traveling his ten-mile trap line Keeper Rearick saw a monster hawk swoop down and gather up a field mouse. The hawk, intent on his dainty tid bit, failed to see the trapper, who thereupon decided to land that hawk. He set a mouse trap at his barn that evening and in the morning found a nice fat mouse therein. Taking a small steel trap such as he uses for minks and weasels Mr. Rearick fastened the mouse as bait on the pan and placing the trap securely on the end of a thirty foot pole he repaired to the hunting grounds of the hawk just before daybreak and standing the pole against a tree soon had his trap up in the air ready for the hawk. That evening when he returned to the trap over he found the hawk fastened therein. The big bird which had a wing spread of five feet put up a vigorous battle before being removed from the trap sinking a talon through a leather glove Mr. Rearick was wearing and piercing his thumb nail.

The Game Keeper has located a couple of dens of wild cats and is preparing to trap them during the winter.

Movement of Flying Fishes.
Some highly interesting observations on flying fishes have been made by Dr. E. H. Hankin in the Arabian sea. In still weather the length of a fish was about a meter, with considerable lateral instability. In a light wind this was increased to from 200 to 400 meters. A resemblance between the wing action of soaring vultures and the fin action of the fishes was marked. In both the wing or fin is inclined upward, the outer part at a higher level than the base, in slow-speed flight while both show a downward inclination in flight at high speed. Scientific American.

BUSINESS TODAY IS CROSSING into prosperous times. Experts proclaim it, indications point to it, past experience assures it. The regular traffic between producer and consumer is being resumed rapidly—bridged across by Confidence.

Swing the bridge of Confidence down to a straight-away road and keep it there. Business is reviving—as it did after the depressions of 1896, 1904, 1908, 1914. The volume of manufacturing and trade is increasing daily, unemployment is decreasing, loans are expanding. Business is gathering momentum—

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

Now that Ireland's seven hundred year battle for freedom has at last resulted in an "Irish Free State," let us give the history of our friends from the "little green isle" the once over and see what manner of men they are. A latter day historian says:

Irish Character Misjudged

The Irish character is misjudged by all English-speaking people and by the Irish themselves. They are an extremely keen race intellectually whenever they are given a moment's leisure. They Christianized Europe from the Hebrides to Milan. After Christianity had been brought to England by St. Augustine of Rome it was destroyed by the Teutons and the Cymric Celts, but restored by the Irish monks of Iona. When the Roman Empire disintegrated the Irish more than anyone else preserved a knowledge of Greek and mathematics.

In physics and mathematics discoverers like Boyle, Hams, Sloan, George Stokes, William Hamilton, Tyndall and Kelvin are Irish. Kelvin was the first electric engineer; he was a great discoverer in all the phases of dynamics, and the founder of the modern science of navigation. In medicine the Irishman Graves reformed medical education and invented bedside clinics. Stokes was the father of public sanitation.

Wright / invented vaccination against typhoid and saved whole armies during the late war. Morse, who invented the telegraph, was of Irish descent, as was Delany, who discovered multiplex telegraphy. Fulton, of the steamboat; Holland, of the submarine and McCormick, of the reaping machines, were Irish. The so-called Bessemer process of making steel, which has made all modern transportation and construction and affected civilization throughout the world most profoundly, was discovered and patented in 1851 by William Kelly, six years before Bessemer was heard of. Dunlop, an Irishman, invented pneumatic tires and Clayton, also Irish, discovered coke. Among the English-speaking orators were the Irishmen, Edmund Burke, Channing O'Connell, Curran, Grattan, Shiel, Meagher and Thomas Burke.

Six Presidents—Fifty Governors Ireland gave the United States six Presidents and fifty Governors, and the great lawyers, Taney, White and Charles O'Connor. Lord Russell, one of the greatest of English lawyers, was really Irish. The Irish soldier was a great leader is found in every land, Owen Roe O'Neill, Leopold O'Donnell, Prim Napier, the Duke of Wellington, Wolseley, Roberts, French MacMahon, Delacy, of Russia, Zachary Taylor, Hickory Jackson Meade, MacCooke, Meagher, Early, Phil Kearney, Cleburne and Phil Sheridan, whom Grant called one of the greatest soldiers of the world, were all Irish. Four of Washington's major generals and thirteen of his brigadiers were born in Ireland as were half of his army. The very "French" that defeated Cornwallis at Yorktown were Irish regiments.

Literature and Music Rhyme in all literatures of the world, and alliteration, are Irish inventions. Modern three-phased melody in music came from Ireland. All the English classic comedies were written by Irishmen—Sheridan, Goldsmith and Farquhar, except what Congreve wrote and he lived in Ireland all his life. In general literature we find the names of the Irish Dean, Swift, Sterne, Steele, Francis Berkeley, Usher, Denham, Tate, Lever, Maria Edgeworth, Tom Moore, Shaw, Synge and many others.

No small nation of the world and very few of the greatest nations have influenced civilization as much as this list of Irishmen and we have not mentioned theologians and philosophers from the days of Ptolemy to the present time.

The Irish are a most capable race and now if their dream comes true there will be an intellectual awakening most probably, which will result in untold benefit. The crushing weight upon Irish initiative in commerce will be lifted. Before the late war there were 4,558,775 inhabitants in Ireland, less than there are in Greater New York city, but in 1845 there were 8,295,026 people in Ireland, and between 1845 and the present time the population of England has quadrupled.

England's Profit in Taxes Since the Union in 1801 Ireland has been plundered of 360,000,000 pounds by overtaxation, and of an additional billion of pounds in absentee rents. This is only a part of the financial loss, since the capital loss of over two billion pounds due to loss of population is not included. In 1896 Ireland, according to the report of the Financial Relations Committee was overtaxed nearly $15,000,000, and then the total tax was $8,343,384 pounds. In 1916, with about the same number of people, the tax was 17,457,000 pounds. In 1919 England collected $170,000,000 from Ireland in taxes, spent of this only $65,000,000 in Ireland.

PULLMAN CO. WILL MAKE OWN CARS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—A big merger which may eventually bring lower Pullman rates was approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission today. It authorizes the Pullman Company to assume control of the Haskell & Barker manufacturing plant in Michigan City, Indiana so that it can manufacture its own cars. The merger may make possible greater economy also in the manufacture of the cars.

What Is Fastest Living Animal?

Man makes a poor show, for the speed of our best sprinters is little more than 20 miles an hour. For some time it was thought that the whippet, which covers a furlong course in about 11 seconds, could claim the title; but his speed, which works out at just over 40 miles an hour, is nowhere when compared with that of the antelope, who is capable of reaching a speed of over 60 miles an hour and of keeping it up for some time. What of the racehorse? His great size and his long stride give a false impression of his speed. The pace of the fastest winner on the race track is not much more than 30 miles an hour.

CLEARFIELD BUSINESS MEN ENGAGED IN DECATUR TOWNSHIP REFORESTATION

Messrs. Lee And Wrigley Blaze The Trail In Providing For The Future Timber Needs Of County By Setting Out Pine And Spruce.

ARE ALSO PLANTING BLACK WALNUTS

Clearfield County land owners and farmers generally would do well to emulate Messrs. A. W. Lee and John W. Wrigley, two of Clearfield County's leading business men and men who have been closely identified with the lumbering industry in Pennsylvania and other States the last two score years.

These gentlemen are enthusiastic in the move for reforestation, which move has been growing by leaps and bounds in this country the past ten years, thanks to the fact that forward men, such as the subjects of this article, State and National Government see that without intelligent reforestation lumber in the United States will soon be a thing of the past.

Beginning three years ago, Messrs. Lee and Wrigley took up the matter of the scientific reforestation of their holdings in Lawrence and Decatur Townships which had been denuded of its original timber by the woodman's axe. That year and every year since ten thousand seedlings have been set out on land owned by these gentlemen in Decatur Township. Of these seedlings five thousand were native Pennsylvania pine and five thousand spruce.

The first year's planting have grown and flourished in a manner to make glad the hearts of the land owners, who declare that with proper care and the keeping out of fires, Clearfield County in the coming twenty years would again see her hills covered with forests of pine and spruce and the other growths that would naturally follow intelligent reforestation.

Thus today on the lands mentioned thirty thousand seedling pines and spruces are growing most satisfactorily while arrangements have already been made for the securing and planting of ten thousand more in April of this year.

In addition to this reforestation, Messrs. Lee and Wrigley have also had planted on their lands in the two townships between fifteen and twenty bushels of walnuts, which they brought here from their lands in Kentucky. These walnuts were planted in holes pushed into the ground some six inches in depth and then covered over with dirt. The walnuts show a remarkable growth and anyone desiring information on these two projects would do well to query these two gentlemen who are real enthusiastic in the work.

Seedlings for reforestation may be had free of charge from the State Forestry Department on application and State Forester W. F. Dagne, of Clearfield, also has a lot of information on the subject available for those who are interested and desire same.

Eliminate the Crude.

There are not many houses that do not shelter at least one hideous piece of furniture. This may be a chair with intricate legs or with absurdly curved arms, on which a lion grows or an eagle threatens, or it may be an old-fashioned sideboard with all sorts of meaningless glimmering ornaments. Even good lines in furniture cannot make golden oak beautiful, and yet much of this is still found in homes in which an effort to achieve beauty is made. Often it is by clearing away the most sickeningly ugly pieces that harmony is achieved. The idea that only by adding to the objects in the house can one add to the beauty of the interior is far from correct.

Oldest Confection.

The greater part of black licorice is derived from Spain, where it is made from the juice of the plant and mixed with starch to prevent it from melting in hot weather. The licorice plant is a shrub that attains a height of three feet, and it grows wild where its roots reach the water. It flourishes especially on the banks of the Tigris and the Euphrates river. Since the valley of the Euphrates contained one of the earliest civilizations in the world, the probability is that licorice is about the oldest confection of all, and the taste which the boys and girls of today like so well was enjoyed by the youngsters of 3,000 years ago.—Washington Star.

Ruskin's Wish Fulfilled.

Did Ruskin anticipate the founding of the boy scouts and girl scouts? It would seem so from the following note to "Sesame and Lilies," which was published in 1863: "I wish there were a true order of chivalry instituted for our English youth of certain ranks in which both boy and girl should receive, at a given age, their knightly and ladyhood by true title; attainable only by certain probation and trial both of character and accomplishment; and to be forfeited on conviction by their peers of any dishonorable act."—New York Evening Post.

Man Can Make Himself.

In the majority of instances a man can do what he pleases with himself—can make what he wants to make of himself. Things that get in his path are not obstacles unless he chooses to regard them as such. Man is his own maker.

Use Lemon for Stains.

Lemon juice will remove ink, rust or fruit stains. Use in this way: Moisten the stained goods in cold water; lay out in a hot sun. Squeeze a few drops of juice on the stain, then let it dry. Repeat the juice and drying until the stain is gone. For iron rust and ink stains put a pinch of salt on the moistened stain and then apply the juice. Repeat process if necessary. For white goods only.

MOTHERS AND
DAUGHTERSRead This Letter from Mrs.
W. S. Hughes

"Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. Wm. S. Hughes, Greenville, Delaware.

"Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mothers—daughters, why not?

The Best News In The Paper

OUR 1922 XMAS SAVINGS
CLUB REMAINS OPEN for YOU

The Panel Below Shows What You Save And What You Get A Little Each Week and A Big Check At Xmas

The fact that the 1922 Xmas Club remains open for a short time is the best news that you could read if you're one of those folks whose income about next Xmas is taxed to the utmost to meet the bills.

25c	50c	$1.00	$2.00	$5.00
EACH WEEK BRINGS YOU ONE OF THESE AMOUNTS
$12.50	$25	$50	$100	$250
& Interest	& Interest	& Interest	& Interest	& Interest

Take advantage of this opportunity. So many folks told us that they were sorry they did not join the club last year—that they missed the check very much on Xmas—that we're making every endeavor to have YOU join.

That the Xmas Club is not a mere child's plaything is proven by the fact that one man asked us if he could join and pay $30.00 a week and then asked us how much he would get at Xmas. We figured it out for him and told him. "Well, here it goes, I want that check to come just about the time you mail those checks—it'll come in mighty handy."

You may not be able to start a $30.00 class, but there's several classes open to you that you feel that you can carry thru to the end, so it's up to you which one you pick out and join.

SNEEZE WEED KILLS SHEEP

Plant Seems Impracticable of Eradication and Stockmen Are Warned to Avoid It.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A plant poisonous to sheep on the ranges, and for which no practical method has been discovered either for eradication or for cure of the resulting disease, is described in a recent bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture. The weed is most troublesome in Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico and in the eastern half of southern California, as well as in scattered areas in eastern and western Nevada, southeastern Oregon, southeastern Idaho and northwestern Wyoming.

It was first reported to the department in 1903 that a mysterious disease, characterized by vomiting, wasting away, and death, was attacking sheep in Utah. The disease was at first attributed to Zygodontus (death camas), but several years later department botanists observed that sneeze weed was usually found on ranges occupied by the affected sheep. Subsequent experiments covering five years fastened responsibility upon the sneeze weed. No effective remedy has been found, and sheep which do not die retain symptoms as long as two or three years.

The weed is a strong perennial, growing to a height of one to three feet with one or several stems. The plant, when young, is often hairy or woolly, particularly the stems. There may be one or several flower heads, which are two to three inches broad with ray flowers of an orange color. The seeds are numerous and hairy. The plant occurs at elevations of 5,200 to 12,000 feet. Its best habitat is on sunny slopes of the southern spruce belt in moist and in well-drained soil. From the color of the flowers it is sometimes called "yellow weed," and Sneeze Weed.

Some stockmen call it sandflower, but in Utah it is most commonly known as sneeze weed. The weed seems uncharacteristic of arid regions. Digging out costs about $40 an acre and cutting with a scythe only stimulates growth. Department scientists, therefore, see the only relief in acquainting stockmen with the appearance and character of the plant and warning them to keep their sheep away from infested areas.

COST OF PORK PRODUCTION

Records Easily Kept Will Show Breeder If His Profit Is a Fair One, or the Reverse.

Before it is possible to determine profit or loss, it is necessary to know the cost of production. Investigations of farm costs of pork, made by the University of Minnesota, gave the following results for 100 pounds of salable hog:

Feed, 564 pounds; labor, man, 6.2 hours; labor, horse, 3 hours; cash expense, 7.4 cents; general expense, 12.6 cents; interest, .06 cent.

The only items of cost that are not accounted for are shelter and equipment. For hogs fattened in the fall and sold in the early winter, this would be a small item.

It is a simple matter to determine the cost of pork production by supplying local values to the amounts of feed and labor required. General expense covers general labor not directly connected with hog feeding.

WINTER SHELTER FOR COLTS

Open Shed Is Not Desirable as Feed Is Utilized Mostly to Combat Cold Weather.

An open shed is not desirable for winter shelter for the colts. If they have to use feed mainly to combat cold weather and other conditions which could be overcome by better quarters, they will be stunted and handicapped to say nothing of much of the profits being taken up in feeding.

FEED FOR FATTENING CATTLE

Data Gathered by Department of Agriculture of Much Value to Producers of Beef.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Data gathered by the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the daily gain and the amount of feed and pasture consumed by 34,534 steers fattened on corn-belt farms during the last two winters, are of value to beef producers as an indication of how much feed is required on the average corn-belt farm to produce 100 pounds of gain.

The average weight of all the cattle at the start of the feeding period was 786 pounds, while the final weight was Pasture is Essential to the Profitable Production of Beef.

1,070 pounds, the gain amounting to 284 pounds in a period of 174 days. The average quantity of feed consumed for 100 pounds of gain was 680 pounds of grain, 62 pounds of commercial concentrates, 361 pounds of dry roughage such as hay and corn fodder, 803 pounds of silage, and the equivalent of 20 days of pasturage.

In addition to these co-operative feeding trials with cattlemen in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri, the United States Department of Agriculture is conducting investigations in southwestern Wisconsin to determine the costs and amounts of feed required to fatten cattle on grass, with and without a supplement, and of the feed required to maintain a breeding herd of beef cattle for one year, and

THERE'S A STYLE TO HAIR DRESSING FOR EVERY PERSON

The dressing of your hair is of prime importance in that there are no two women who should dress their hair exactly alike to have it look its best. There's just as much "fit" to hair dressing as there is to your suit. A certain type face takes one style and another type will require another style.

I can dress your hair in the style that's most becoming to you and you'll be agreeably surprised in the way it will look when you look so much better.

SELF-FEEDERS ARE POPULAR

Devices Eliminate Great Portion of Labor Involved and Insure Uniform Results

Self-feeders for hogs have come into great popularity among farmers and feeders largely because they eliminate a great portion of the labor involved in feeding and insure more uniform results and gains from the hogs.

Hogs in the wild state were self-fed animals, living upon such feeds as would satisfy their appetites, and under domestication they seem to thrive best when fed by the same principle. The marked success of the self-feeding principle of hog raising is largely due to the fact that they may eat an abundance of those feeds which will nourish them to the best advantage.

The self-feeder should be designed primarily to keep an available supply of grain constantly before the hogs, and at the same time protect the contents against waste due to wind and rain. A self-feeder consists of a hopper to hold the feed and a trough below it into which the grain flows as the hogs eat it. Complete plans for the Iowa self-feeder can be obtained from the extension department, Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa.

ECONOMICAL BEEF IN SOUTH

Mixture of Silage, Dry Velvet Beans and Cottonseed Meal is Most Satisfactory

The United States Department of Agriculture has conducted a steer-fattening experiment in Mississippi which shows that velvet beans are well adapted for use in making beef. Feeding mixtures of silage, dry velvet beans and cotton seed were compared with combinations of silage and dry velvet beans, and silage and soaked velvet beans. The mixture of silage and soaked velvet beans resulted in the most economical and profitable production of beef, while the mixture of silage, dry velvet beans and cotton seed meat proved more satisfactory than the combination of silage and dry velvet beans.

WATCH FOR MOLDY SILAGE

All Stuff Found Decayed Should Be Placed Where Live Stock Can Not Reach It

In opening the silo it is a good plan to watch out for mold which might be there. These molds are very poisonous to horses and often cause the death of cattle as well.

Be sure that the decayed silage is all scraped off the top and put where the livestock cannot get to it.

It is poor economy to try and feed the top silage and take a chance on losing valuable stock.

Ballroom Dancing

The earliest form of ballroom dancing was the quadrille started about 1815. This was followed by the tango, invented in 1836. The polka was adopted in 1837. The waltz, which came from Germany in 1785, did not become popular as a ballroom dance till later. The two-step is an American invention.

LOCAL LAWYER SETTING PACE FOR CLEARFIELD COUNTY DAIRY FARMERS

Now Has Best Dairy Farm In Central Part Of State With Up-To-Date Equipment To Care For And Breed First Class Animals For Market Which Will Develop In This County.

$2,000 HERD SIRE BOUGHT RECENTLY

Clearfield farmers should be gratified to learn that J. C. Forsythe, Lawyer and farmer, has purchased the two thousand dollar herd sire reported sold to a New York firm by C. Luther Lowe, of DuBois, last month. With this sire to head his pure bred Holstein herd, Mr. Forsythe has introduced the best Holstein blood in the state into his herd and naturally should be of untold benefit to the Holstein breeders of the County.

The Maple Farm as it is called is located in Knox Township, a short distance from Boardman and contains 205 acres, 25 of this being a wood lot. Considering the fact that this land was in a rundown condition when obtained by Mr. Forsythe; that the barn burned down; that wind storm destroyed the house and other buildings and the cholera took his hogs, he has in a very few years overcome all of these difficulties and has at the present time, the nucleus of what he hopes to be the model farm in Central Pennsylvania.

The Dairy barn recently constructed is 46 x 126 feet and will accommodate a dairy herd of forty mature cows and as many young cattle, 39 stanchions, two hospital stalls, 30 calf pens, 3 large box stalls, 6 horse stalls, a large feed room, 2 silos, one hundred tons each, mow space for one hundred tons of hay and the amount of straw, besides James equipment throughout, electric lights, litter and feed carriers individual drinking cups, cork and cement floors, comprise the equipment and conveniences of this barn, which has to be seen to be appreciated.

The dairy herd consists of 16 pure bred Holstein cows, 6 pure bred heifers, 3 pure bred bulls, and 10 grade cows and heifers, and includes besides the celebrated bull obtained from Mr. Lowe some of the best cows in the country. Within a few years he will have a pure bred herd large enough to accommodate a large number of farmers in the County, who desire to get good foundation stock. At present he has two young bulls, the sons of the herd sire, that he will sell reasonably to anyone that will grow them out properly and keep them for a period of at least 5 years.

The hogs are of the Duroc Jersey breed, Defender and the Cherry King strain, pure bred throughout, but only five in number, as the majority of the original stock were wiped out by the cholera. A new start was made with the five individuals just mentioned, all of which have been treated with the double method for prevention of cholera and all buildings thoroughly disinfected.

The horse stock includes six head, 1 pure bred stallion, and 2 pure bred Percheron mares, 1 pure bred Percheron stallion.

Other equipment on the farm includes a concrete milkhous, concrete spring house, underground, with accommodations for cooling the milk in the minimum of time, after it leaves the cow. The milk is carried from the barn to the milkhous by an overhead track similar to feed equipment. Two tractors are used on the farm, a Cleveland and a Fordson, besides the horse power mentioned. A granary located close to the barn will hold 150 tons of concentrate.

The owner declares he is going to have the best farm in this part of the state, and if he continues his present stride for a short time, he will reach his goal. Any community in the State could well feel proud to have in its midst a dairy farm and a pedigree stock of the calibre mentioned above.

We often here farmers and others speak in a joking way of the pet sideline of other business or professional men. In a case like this or any other similar case where a business man has taken some old run down farms in the community and made

M'CREIGHT PROVES CATTLE RAISING IS PROFITABLE

The newspaper article published in the December special edition of the Clearfield Progress, with the report in the venture in cattle pasturing in the cut over timber section of the County proving a financial loss, has nevertheless been profitable. While the money loss is regrettable and especially so when suffered from the cause so many believed was wholly uncalled for if not real criminal negligence, it's result has opened up the way for successful results in the future.

The experiment has proved the estimate of the local business men that the thousands of acres of cut over brush land is valuable for cattle raising and that only good business management is required to make it profitable. County Agent Sterrett paid very close attention to these cattle during the summer ranging and by the first of September estimated the gain at 150 to 200 pounds per head, and had they been put into the market early in the fall fair profits would have been shown.

With the steady draining out of the mineral resources following the taking of the timber it is fast coming to be vital for the County to find means for developing the agricultural resources. These values though dormant are known to have immense possibilities. The Stock Growers' Auxiliary Association which you recently succeeded in organizing is showing flattering results for the limited time it has been in operation and we may look for excellent returns from it. With the co-operation of all the banks it should prove Clearfield County to be one of the best dairying districts in the country.

With the introduction of pure bred stock raising will naturally follow creameries and condenseries as well as establishing of better markets in the towns and cities. There are now tentative plans for a canning factory, also the result of the deep interest the people are taking in the subject of better agriculture.

Unlimited possibilities await development in Clearfield County, which can only be accomplished by the close co-operation of the farmers, business men and bankers of our County. Let us all pull together and work for this goal—"Clearfield the Agricultural County of the East."

M. I. McCreight

DAIRY CATTLE WEEK AT STATE COLLEGE JANUARY 23 TO 28

The Pennsylvania State College has set apart this week to give practical instructions with dairy cattle to students taking the correspondence courses, and to any others who are prepared, or wish to take the work. It is not connected with the eight week's winter course.

There will be four practice periods of two hours each, daily:—One in judging dairy cattle, one in computing rations and two in testing milk and cream.

State College has a dairy herd of over one hundred head, pure bred animals, which include all of the important dairy breeds which will be available for instruction purposes. One of the finest College dairy barns in the United States with complete equipment, affords ample opportunity to study sanitary milk production and dairy cattle management.

Detailed information regarding rooms and board and other expenses for the week can be obtained from the Farm Bureau Office.

WHY NOT ORGANIZE AN ASSOCIATION OF BEE KEEPERS

State College Offers
Plenty Of Support To
This County If Ten Or More Will Join.

WRITE STERRETT

We have Organizations of various kinds in the County, dealing with milk production, potato growing and other things, so why not a Bee Grower's Association. Perhaps a very small majority of the farmers in the County keep, or have kept these in the past, but no doubt a large portion have had the experience of having hives.

During the last month the Pennsylvania State College has added to its extension force Mr. George H. Rea, who is a bee specialist. He will be available to anyone desiring his services in the County from now on, and in a letter received by the County Agent from him, it was suggested that if ten or more bee keepers in the County are sufficiently interested in getting together once or twice a year, for the purpose of educational work, such as, Disease Control, Management, Legislation matters, and other phases of bee keeping, that they organize into a County organization and plan a definite program for the coming year.

The County Agent does not have a complete record of all men in the County, who are interested in bee keeping, and would appreciate if those who are interested would communicate with the County Agent as soon as possible in regard to this matter.

WINTER FEED WILL NEED WATCHING IF LOSS IS NOT HAD

Winter is coming on now and many breeders of beef cattle are already feeding or will before long. Every breeder knows that the winter feed bill is one of the greatest items of expense to his herd. A heavy winter feed account is one of the many leaks in the pail of profit which can be materially reduced. An excessive winter feed bill is a continual drain and must be met with intelligently if the greatest profit is to be derived from the herd whether it be pure bred or grade. Intelligent feeding is not construed to mean open feed bins and hay mows. Far too often "more feed" is recommended as a cureall for all the misfits of livestock management, regardless of whether the animals are nondescript, grades or purebreds. Feeding more than is necessary for the well being of livestock is nearly as important as underfeeding, since both are reflected in the final net profits. It may be that many more breeders underfeed than overfeed but many cases of so called underfeeding is wrong feeding and management, rather than underfeeding as far as amount of feed is concerned. It is almost needless to state that this idea is fostered by a great number of breeders.

Furthermore, it is not good practice to have breeding cattle boiling fat at all seasons of the year anymore than it is good practice to have them thin all seasons of the year. An ideal condition for a mature breeding cow would be high condition at the beginning of the late fall or early winter, some loss of weight in winter, with no loss of thriftiness, and continual gaining during the spring. This practice is more economical and is beneficial to the cow. Satisfactory winter feeding of a breeding herd of beef cattle calls for a fair understanding of feeds and cattle. A breeder should know a thrifty animal from an unthrifty and starving one and maintain his animals in a condition which experience and experiments have proven satisfactory both to the animal and to the pocketbook.

Any breeder can open the doors of his feed bins but it takes one who has made some observations and study to winter feed a breeding herd of beef cattle without a lot of unnecessary expense.

By Ralph Irvin, of Penna State College.

ANNUAL HOLSTEIN MEETING WILL BE HELD AT CAPITAL

It should be of special interest to the Holstein breeders of the County to know that the Annual meeting of the State Association will be held in Harrisburg, in connection with the State Farm Products Show, which will be held in Harrisburg, January 23 to 27th.

The committee in charge has prepared a new and instructive program for the meeting, which it is hoped will eliminate the faction and friction that entered into the meetings during the last year or two. An entirely new program, differing from any of the previous meetings should appeal to everyone, and it is hoped that as many as possible attend the meeting.

One who has blooded stock for sale should not fail to use these special editions of The Progress as a medium of presenting their livestock, etc., for sale, to the farmers of the County.

PENNSYLVANIA BOYS SHOW THEIR DADS HOW TO FEED HOGS

Breeding Clubs Show
Excellent Results By Capturing Prizes At Every Show.

FEEDING DID IT

According to reports of Club work received by the County Agent, from those in charge of the Pennsylvania State College Agricultural Extension Division an average gain of 1.33 pounds of pork per day was the new record established by the boys in feeding clubs," he says. "This is an increase of .14 of a pound over last year, and is at least double the rate of gain per day as a general farm practice. There were eighteen clubs with 217 members."

A new record was also established in the feeding of pigs by boys in the breeding clubs. The average daily gain in pork was 1.27 pounds, an increase of 12 of a pound over last year's record. There were 663 members in 71 clubs and each group demonstrated without any doubt the raising of pure bred stock is a paying proposition. In one county twenty club pigs shown in open class against forty pigs owned by adult breeders, every prize but one was captured by the club pigs. Four clubs in that County will increase to twelve for the coming year.

Club work in Clearfield County for the past year has received very little attention, due to the lack of local leaders. At the annual meeting considerable sentiment was expressed in favor of the organization of a pure bred Livestock Club in Clearfield County. During the coming year these clubs can be formed in any community where there are ten to fifteen or more boys or girls interested in hogs, poultry or in dairy cattle, and where these boys or girls can find a local leader to supervise the work, and assist the County Agent during the year. The Farm Bureau is ready and willing to form such clubs, and if the boys and girls of the County desire to be enrolled in club work for the coming year, they should send, in their names together with the names of their parents at once so that we may make plans at an early date for the work for the coming year.

Make Farm Bureau A Clearing House

A few farmers, responded, last month, to the request for lists of pure breeds for sale. Help was given in purchasing some of the animals. Others will be placed soon. The more "for sale lists" we receive, the better chance we have for filling requests. Last week the request came into the office for a pure bred Berkshire boar, farrowed in March or in April. Not a single one could be found. Are there none in the County?

We have listed for sale, at the present time, ten pure bred Holstein bulls, ages from six to five years, with prices to suit any pocket book. Write to the Farm Bureau if you are interested. We also have on the want list, inquiries for two young pure bred Guernsey bulls, and one extra good pure bred Guernsey cow, also a dozen pure bred Guernsey heifers. Let us know if you

WHICH IS THE BEST BREED OF CATTLE? EXPERT ANSWERS

Four Doctors Must Be Taken Into Consideration
In Determining Solution Of Problem.

READ CAREFULLY

The question comes up, daily among men who wish to purchase pure bred livestock, as to which is the best breed to buy. In answer to this question Professor Borland of State College claims that there are four distinct factors which determine the decision of each man who is starting into the purebred livestock business. These four factors are as follows:

First is the market. With a good wholesale market for milk, Holsteins or Ayrshires are to be preferred on account of their large production. A fancy retail market milk trade where quality is recognized by a correspondingly good price, calls for Guernseys or Jerseys. These breeds are also well adapted to a butter market.

Second is the topography of the farm. Ayrshires or Guernseys are good grazers and well adapted to a hilly country. Holsteins do better on a level farm where a large amount of roughage is available. Jerseys are adapted to cramped quarters.

Third is the breed of cattle most numerous in the community. One should keep in line so far as possible with the trend of the community and endeavor to establish its reputation for a particular breed of cattle.

Fourth is personal preference. One will usually give the best care and attention to the breed of cattle which he personally likes.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUILD UP YOUR HERD OF SHEEP

In spite of the seemingly discouraging prospects for the sheep industry now is a good time to start a small flock of sheep, or to improve the flock already established. Experience has proven that points of depression, rather than boom—times offer the best chances to start in sheep production as well as in the production of any other class of livestock.

Sheep raisers, in common with other producers have been experiencing, in recent years, losses that have been very discouraging. As a result many flocks have been greatly reduced and many others entirely discontinued.

According to the 1920 census there were in Clearfield County, only 2,369 compared with 4,532 sheep in the County, which means that the sheep industry in the county has decreased nearly one half during the last ten years.

Men well posted on the sheep industry in the United States feel that we have now passed through the valley of depression and are now in the direction of more normal and stable conditions. The mills are getting back to work, and the accumulated wools are being used up, as the result of a better demand during the last few months.

There is reason to believe that the sheep industry of the Frontier of the World has reached the maximum and is now on the decline. If this is the case it will mean that we must look more and more to other sections of country, similar to Clearfield County for a production of both wool and mutton.

Men who are raising or who have raised sheep in the past, will admit that a flock of sheep, properly managed, will produce a profit, besides eradicating the weeds and building up soil fertility, have any for sale.

Since this edition reaches every farmer in the county, it makes an ideal advertising medium for your excess produce and livestock. The Progress will be glad to place your ads at the regular rate. It pays to advertise.

"FARMING FOR PROFITS"

THE FOUNDATION

Were all farmers certain that what they do, were done by the best methods, with the best possible results, somewhere, somehow, in their final account, there would be a showing of profit.

When the farmer plans to do a certain piece of farming, to raise the fertility of a certain piece of land, to develop a better breed of livestock, to add modern improvements to the farm equipments, to beautify the home environments, to raise the best grain, fruit or vegetables, there must be an ideal in his mind—a mental picture if you please. The mental track must be clear, the machinery of the brain must work successfully and safely, on a clear track, free from wreck obstruction, he must follow a system that leaves him free to work out that which is most favorable to the place and the conditions, which have to be worked.

If he studies and runs his farm management by the best modern methods which have been advanced and made practical by our splendid American Agricultural Colleges and the great Agricultural Grain Force of America, he will be on a direct road to profit returns for they have worked it out of the Colleges and farms, and have laid a real permanent corner stone on which to begin to build "Farming for Profit," which is now far past the experimental stage. It is being done every day.

If the farm is not getting better, it's owner is going backward sliding toward loss. If it is more productive and better than last year, it is an indication that plans have been made ahead, which changed the conditions. Of all the industrial occupations the farmer needs "A Vision of Tomorrow." Farming is not a "Mushroom" proposition, which materializes overnight, but a persistent patient effort of courage with a vision, to labor five, ten or twenty years in developing the product of the vision. Then the vision must begin to be worked out at once or it becomes a "Day Dream." If he appropriates $1,000 today for obtaining a desired result tomorrow, he counts the $1,000 as part of today's expenses which would justify tomorrow's expectations. Now beginning at once to plan and work toward a set goal, the farmer must reduce his excess expenses and invest in farming—the accumulating profits for a good dividend paying business.

To make the farm earn more, the farmer must learn more about it, for he who has learned best is in a more favorable position to lead the community out into advanced farm ventures. He has concentrated his energy. He has worked hard. He has tried out new experiments. He has never been afraid to have the courage of his opinion. He has fixed the lines he wanted to travel on and has kept on them long enough to get real farm results coming his way, and then he has had the ability to relax for a time and get off the job far enough on a tour of observation, to take notes and make comparisons of successes and failures as he frequently stops to "look and listen" while speeding on the Agricultural Highway toward "Profit Town."

The first step will likely be at the Farm Bureau where he can get the latest and best information to make his trip most profitable and one of real pleasure and business.

itv, provided of course, a satisfactory market can be obtained for wool and mutton.

The time is here when foundation stock can be bought at a rock bottom figure. The time is here when market conditions will be right. The wise man will start now and be prepared for the profitable market period, when that time comes. Foundation stock will cost twice what it does now. The Shepherd's Monstrous Tale.
The Australian shepherd stands up when he tells his tale, and he stands well to the windward to avoid the dust kicked up by a rushing, jumping, tumbling stream of sheep, driven at full speed through a two-foot aperture in a paddock gate. Behind him stands a tall man to make a notch in a stick for every hundred as he shouts them out. There is no hawthorn to be seen and no dale but the bush stretching from horizon to horizon. Telling a tale of eight thousand or more is no theme for an idyl. Theocritus himself would have spurned it. Yet there is romance in it, and was to the wandering Connecticut Yankee who ventures to introduce a contraption by which each sheep as it passes through the gate will press a spring attached to an adding machine.

Fort Hamilton Famous.

When British troops forced a landing the first shots by an outpost of Colonial troops were fired from the spot which later became Fort Hamilton. Then it was known as Denyse's Ferry. After the disastrous battle of Long Island in 1776, a fort was built. Efforts to flood the peninsula laid in 1825 were not successful. "Stonewall" Jackson was baptized at the Fifth Church, now St. John's, and one of the historic landmarks in the city, when he was stationed at the fort in 1849. Capt. Robert E. Lee, later the noted Confederate army general, was for years in command of the post and was a vestryman of the church. The batteries have been named for the last half century by officers who have won fame in a hundred fields in defense of their country.

Sugar an Emotional Food.

Nations which eat the most sugar are the most emotional. In the opinion of a medical correspondent, he says that the emotionalism of the Latin and other peoples of the temperate zone, and of the tropical peoples, is due to the large intake of sugar, which has always been available in abundance. Not only is sugar always at hand, but the natives consume large quantities of the raw cane in sugar-growing countries. This large consumption of sugar, a quickly acting fuel, stimulates and overdevelops the pituitary gland and its functions. The constant stimulation of sugary products over centuries of time has overgrown this important organ.

Will Loan Money To Farmers To Buy Pure-Bred Live Stock

To buy Farm Land, Equipment, Lime and Fertilizer, to make Repairs and Improvements, and to pay off old mortgages and other debts.

FOR EXAMPLE:—At six per cent interest plus one per cent for amortization a loan of $2,000.00 will cost the borrower $70.00 every six months and have 33 years to pay it off, debt and interest, but any time after the fifth year additional payments may be made to reduce the principal, or may all be paid off and mortgage cancelled. The borrower will subscribe for $100.00 of the Capital Stock of the Association ($5.00 on every $100.00 borrowed), and this, with $29.50 expenses of Association and Federal Land Bank, will be deducted from the $2,000.00. The $100.00 of stock is cancelled when loan is finally paid and used toward last payment. In the meantime the stockholder will receive share of the dividends declared. The application fee is usually $10.00. The cost of the Abstract of Title will be additional and paid by borrower. See the Secretary-Treasurer personally and bring your insurance policy and deed. Requires one to three months to get loans through.

JAIL BREAKER SENT TO REFORMATORY BY JUDGE BELL TODAY

Edgar Segerpau, the Winburne boy, who was in jail charged with the larceny of an automobile robe and who is said to have furnished the saw used in the recent attempt to break jail, was sentenced this morning by Judge Bell to the Huntingdon Reformatory where he will remain until legally discharged.

A hearing was also had in the case of Lynn Campbell, a Luthersburg boy, who entered a plea of guilty to the charge of having robbed Henry Kirk, Tax Collector of Brady township, of $850, according to Mr. Kirk's calculation. Kirk runs a candy store and restaurant at Luthersburg, and when a taxpayer came in to settle his taxes he would place the money paid him in an envelope and stick same in a desk at the rear of his room. Campbell, who is about 17, frequented the restaurant and learning where Kirk kept his money would watch his chance when no one was looking and help himself to the tax money. He got as much as $170 at one time and was not caught until his peculations amounted to $850.

Campbell claims he took but $510 in all, which his father offers to replace, but Kirk refuses to accept this amount as he states the total taken will reach $850.

Judge Bell did not disclose of the case at this time or account of Attorney Pentz and Miller making a plea to have the young man given a chance to earn the money needed to replace the stolen funds. He was allowed to return home but directed to report at February court.

A Shrub a Year.

A man who makes nature study his hobby plants a new kind of shrub every fall in his back yard. He says its leafing and flowering in the coming spring are something to look forward to through the winter, and so he keeps himself in a condition of curiosity and expectation and life never goes quite stale. He says nothing of the beauty of that back yard, but his friends and neighbors can testify to that. Some people buy some object of art or a piece of beautiful furniture every year. This is all right as a means of accumulating property, and of developing a sense of beauty in regard to the material world. But the man-planting a shrub has one quality which any material object lacks—the possibility of growth and development in ever-surprising ways. It keeps the possessor on tenter with expectation, and that is what makes life worth living. —General Monitor.

EXHIBIT OF OVER 100 PURE BRED SWINE AT CAPITAL

The exhibit of more than one hundred pure bred swine to be held in connection with the sixth annual Farm Products Show at Harrisburg this month will have a larger number of swine breeders directly benefited by the animals on display than at any other swine show ever held in the United States. A total of 358 breeders in twenty-one counties are making an effort to have their best animals exhibited. They represent the entire membership of the thirty-five Community Swine Breeders' Associations that have been developed during the past three years through the efforts of the Pennsylvania State College agricultural extension division. Each Breeders' Association will send its three best sows to compete for prizes at the show. Only 119 exhibitors entered the Ohio State Fair hog show this year, conceded to be one of the largest affairs of its kind in the country.

Great Antiseptic Ointment Called San Cura that Your Local Druggist Sells on Money-back Plan.

"Am badly scalded with steam," writes Gilbert Hard of Rinard's Mills, Ohio; "San Cura Ointment relieved the pain at once and am healed rapidly. It is a wonderful ointment."

Here's another: Ellis W. Frankenstein, Titusville, Pa., broke his leg; was in bed six months; discharged from hospital as incurable; was five years on crutches; while opening in leg continued to discharge pus; suffered terrible pains; San Cura Ointment drew out poisonous pus and many pieces of bone; now perfectly healthy; sore healed, and weight increased from 86 to 121 pounds.

San Cura Ointment is such a marvelous, healing, antiseptic ointment that it is sold on money-back plan.

It relieves itching skin, tetter, eczema, salt rheum, old running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, carbuncles, sore nipples, piles, frost-bitten feet, chilblains, catarrh and chapped skin.

ful growth experienced by the community Swine Breeders' Association as fostered by the College Extension Service. The type and grade of animals to be shown will tell the story of the heights reached by Pennsylvania growers in the perfection of efficient pork machines—Berkshires, Hampshires, Poland Chinas, Duroc Jerseys and Chester Whites. The increasing demand for better hogs will be shown as reaching to every section of the state, from Fayette and Westmoreland Counties to the west to Bucks and Chester Counties in the east. Every one of the 350 Association members is striving to have at least one of his animals selected to appear at the show, and of course there will be keen competition for the five place prizes and the champion sow award in each of the five breeds.

College extension men are working with the Association members in preparation for the show, all co-operating with the State Department of Agriculture to make it the best ever held.

WIFE KILLS SPOUSE WHO ATTACKED HER WITH HEAVY HAMMER

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 9.—Defending herself and her three small children from the blows of a three pound hammer wielded by her husband, Mrs. Emma Kocsis, of Forest Hills, Pa., shot and killed him, she confessed to police today. The husband died in Columbia Hospital today. The shooting followed an argument over a late supper.

Today's FRANKLIN

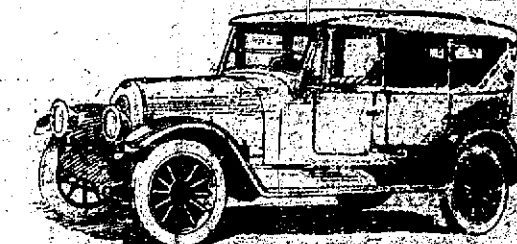

The Most Comfortable Car to Ride In

FRANKLIN has developed more features—different features—which specifically obtain riding comfort, than any other car.

Take flexibility—practically every part of the car constructed to ease road shocks. No other car has gone to the expense of the laminated wood frame with its greater ability to give before blows and to absorb vibrations.

To counteract jolts and strains, Franklin alone uses four-point body suspension, instead of rigidly bolting the body to the frame. No rigid torque tubes or strut rods to transmit the pounding of the road.

Unsprung weight. The less weight below the springs, the less ham-

SMART WINTER APPAREL PRICED FOR QUICK CLEARANCE

We desire to open our new Ready-To-Wear Department on the Second Floor with all new apparel, hence these big reductions.

It is January and you must have at least one, doubtless many, Winter Apparel needs that must be quickly met. Fortunate for you if you want a coat or a suit; just as fortunate if you want a frock or skirt, for the January Sale offers exceptional values on very exclusive Apparel. Certainly you couldn't have bought such luxurious coats, such individually styled frocks, such serviceable smart Suits as reasonably as these heretofore.

CHOOSE YOUR COAT AT A NOTABLY LOW COST

Maybe you have already decided to get a new coat and only need a hint of the great values being offered to bring you to the store.

Here are coats of rich fabrics, exquisitely fur trimmed, afford an opportunity greater than any you've ever had to choose a really handsome coat. Coats in other styles form separate groups.

Hats Are Greatly Reduced

HAVE A SMART NEW ONE

There's no question about it, a few months' wear does take the jauntiness out of a Hat and then it detracts from your whole costume. If there was nothing you could do about it there might be cause for lament, but certainly not while this January Sale is in progress. Here you may select a Winter Hat of the most becoming design at a price that would hardly have bought the trimming early in the season.

EVERY TRIMMED HAT IN THE STORE WILL GO AT $1.95, $2.95 AND $3.95

Regular values from $5.00 to $17.50.

ALL BLOUSES AT 10 PER CENT REDUCTION DURING THIS CLEARANCE SALE

Didn't you find a shiny gold piece or a crisp new bill hanging on the Christmas tree that you are just burning up to spend for something pretty? You can't find anything prettier than these blouses and best of all, it won't take all of your Christmas money to buy one. They're remarkable values and in just the shades and styles that women like most.

SKIRTS REDUCED 10 PER CENT

"I've had more good out of this separate skirt," No woman in particular said this, but any woman who owns one will admit that she might well have said it many times. The chances are that they paid a great deal more for their's than you will have to for your's if you choose in this Clearance Sale.
